Web Site Updates, Hsv meeting, 4-State Conference Info & Our Expo '08

July, 2007 e-Newsletter

Our main website <http://www.alabamassa.org/> has been updated with info about the October 21-23, Four State SE Conference to be held in Myrtle Beach. The host state, North Carolina <http://ncssaonline.org/> web site on the conference is up. It has more details and sign up information.

Regional Conference in Myrtle Beach - Oct. 21-23, 2007

State ALSSA meeting is in Huntsville on October 3, 2007. You can get info specifics at <http://www.alabamassa.org/oct3-07-meeting.htm> . It will be at the same location as last October with the same great buffet food assortment.

Our 3rd Annual EXPO will be held February 20-21, 2008 and details of that event are online (just click on items from the top of our home page).

Our website has been updated with a Storage Related Calendar. <http://www.alabamassa.org/calendar/> is the link to it, but there is also the link from our home page that says "Month-2-Month calendar & planner." Check it out for several months in the future. We will try to keep it updated with both OUR events and the industry trade shows and things. If YOU have an item that we can add, let me know via email, and I'll see it gets done. Trade shows and events in other states would be of interest also. I'll even add monthly meetings in Georgia and activities in Mississippi if someone will send it to me. Tennessee is trying to get their state association more active and I'll post updates about it as well.

Last minor update to our web site is a Icon "AL" that appears in the navigation bar as well as in the "favorites" list in your browser. It's something companies are starting to do (look at all the links in your favorites and you will see a few with icons besides the stock IE icon) and we are keeping pace.

Also, in case you have forgotten or are just getting this email for the first time, the log-in for our "members only" part of the web site is, name is "member" and password is "storage07" without the quotes. This password will be changing very soon and ONLY members paid for 2007 will get the new password. There are a few of you still getting this electronic newsletter that have NOT renewed. Please do so ASAP. Also, any new members that sign up starting in June, will only have to pay 1/2 year dues. We want to welcome another new member to our association,
